CLASSICS AND THEIR HISTORY

SIDECAR

16

Martell VSOP, Cointreau, lemon

The Sidecar was likely invented around World War I. It graced the pages of two books in 1922: "Harry's ABC of Mixing Cocktails" by Harry MacElhone and "Cocktails and How to Mix Them" by Robert Vermeire. Both books listed the recipe with equal parts cognac, Cointreau and lemon juice, but subsequent versions altered the ratios, calling for two parts cognac, one part Cointreau and one part lemon. The latter formula is still common today and is used for this recipe

THREE DOTS AND A DASH

15

Trois Rivières blanc, Doorly's 5yr, Velvet Falernum,

Pimento Dram, orange, honey, lime, Angostura bitters
Three Dots & A Dash is an essential drink from the classic "Tiki" bartending canon. Donn Beach himself, one of the two grandfathers of the style, created this drink during World War II. Its name refers to the morse code for the letter V, for "victory".

MONKEY GLAND

14.5

Bombay Sapphire, absinthe, grenadine, orange

Created @ the Harry's New York Bar in Paris. Named after a famous surgeon at the time (Vornoroff) that was conducting some iffy experiments between monkeys and humans. MacElhone, the creator of the drink, also was known because of classics as: french 75', bloody mary and sidecar.

HEMINGWAY DAIQUIRI (Papa Double)

14.5

Bacardi Carta Blanca, Maraschino, grapefruit, lime

Created @ La Floridita, Cuba in the 1930's. Hemingway was no stranger at La Floridita. The writer always had a strong palate towards drinks, always asked less sugar and more booze which as a result the papa double was created.

VIEUX CARRE

16

Woodford Rye, Rémy Martin VSOP Martini Rubino,

DOM Bénédictine, Peychaud's bitters

Created in 1938 by Walter Bergeron, the then head bartender at what is now the Carousel bar at the Monteleone Hotel, New Orleans. It is named after the French term for New Orleans' French Quarter and literally translates as 'old square'.

SPICY FIFTY

14.5

Stoli Vanilla, elderflower, honey syrup, lime, chilli

Adapted from a recipe created in 2004/5 by Salvatore Calabrese for his bar Fifty in London, opened in February 2005 with this cocktail being a signature drink on the first menu. This was a period where vanilla vodka flavoured cocktails were fashionable: the porn
